Struggling to compete with GM's dominance, ALCO introduced its first diesel locomotive, the FA-1 in 1945. ALCO realized that there was a tremendous demand to satisfy from the railroads phasing out steam power. The unit was designed as a dual purpose locomotive suitable for freight & passenger service. ALCO produced almost 700 units between 1945 - 1950 for railroads all over the country.

In 1937 General Motors introduced the first "E" series diesel locomotive. The 2000 H.P. units were designed for high speed passenger service. E-7 production began at the end of World War II, with more than 400 units built from 1945 until 1949. The E-7 was purchased by almost every major railroad and quickly became the most popular passenger loco ever built.

In 1948, EMD's Division of GM debuted a new concept to American railroads; the BL-2 locomotive. Offered as an all-purpose solution for "Branch Line" service, it was a redesigned car body on a modified F-3 chassis. It offered the engineer greater visibility to the rear of the locomotive. They were costly to build and maintain, but the idea was revolutionary, making this locomotive a historical milestone towards the development of the prolific GP series introduced the following year. Only 59 units in total were built. Several are preserved in museums and a few are still used to pull scenic railroads.

DID YOU KNOW?

When locomotive manufacturers introduce a new model they make a demonstrator model available to interested railroads so they can try it out. Only one BL-2 Demonstrator was built and it was later sold to Chicago & Eastern Illinois. You can use our BL-2 demonstrator with any railroad on your layout and still be prototypical!

In 1939, GM's EMD division introduced two switcher locomotives, the NW-2 and its smaller sibling the SW-1. The NW-2 was equipped with a 1000 H.P. twelve cylinder engine. It was GM's most popular switcher of all time, with over 1100 units sold. The last unit was manufactured in December of 1949. Many railroads and shortlines have rebuilt these units due to their flexibility and reliability.

GE entered the road switcher market in 1960 with the introduction of their 'U' (Universal) line of diesels. Their goal was to offer replacement diesels for the aging fleet of first generation diesels. This model group was quickly nicknamed 'U-Boats'. The U-33c Diesel was first produced in 1968 with 3300 H.P. and sporting large radiator wings to make it easily distinguishable from earlier model U-Boats.

In 1937, new railroad regulations required two men to operate any locomotive weighing more than 90,000 pounds. Starting in 1940, GE built this miniature switcher to supply the railroads with the largest diesel that one man could operate. Over the years, 44 ton locomotives were built by many manufacturers, but GE sold the vast majority. Ours is a great entry-level item for you, your children, or grandchildren.

Originally built for passenger service at the request of the Santa Fe, this 3600 H.P. unit was later used for freight service as well. The locomotive was basically a SD-45 with a different body. The original purchasers of these locomotives were Santa Fe and Milwaukee Road, but they later wore different paint schemes as railroads merged and locomotives were sold or traded-in for newer units.

GM retook the horsepower lead in 1965 with the introduction of the SD45 locomotive. They equipped it with a new 20 cylinder engine designed after a Japanese marine engine, the largest power plant ever used in a locomotive. The SD45 was able to generate 3600 H.P., a 20% improvement over the SD40 model.

First introduced in 1927, the 2-8-4 Berkshire was designed and built by both Alco and Lima. The newly designed 4-wheel trailing truck allowed for a larger boiler that developed much more steam. Even though only 750 Berks were made, they were popular for longer than most other steamers built in the same era. The last Berkshire was built in 1949 by Lima.

by BACHMANN®

Golden Memories Series

Dear Model Train Enthusiast,

It is with great pride that we present to you these replicas of the most popular Lionel® Post-war train sets available over the last fifty years. By choosing Williams by Bachmann, you can own the trains that you dreamed about in your childhood and still desire as an adult. Though the original models of most of the sets in this catalog are valued at more than $2000 in "like-new" condition* (with some so rare that they are almost impossible to find at all), Williams by Bachmann offers perfect reproductions at a fraction of the price.

Outside, our models are the spitting image of the trains that you remember, all dressed up in their perfectly applied paint and decorations. The Santa Fe Super Chief gleams in silver and red, the S-2 Turbine is poised and ready to run full steam ahead, and the pride of the Pennsy fleet, "The Congressional," prepares to pamper its passengers on another trip from New York to Washington, D.C.

We spare no expense to insure that these models have all the premium features that you remember, including die-cast frames, wire mesh vents, and steel rimmed drivers on the steam locomotives. Inside, the mechanics and electronics are time-tested designs using modern maintenance-free can motors, metal gears, and trouble-free electronics. The sound system offers an easy to operate horn or whistle and bell, allowing you to enjoy the clickety-clack of the trains. Williams by Bachmann products are the preferred choice of many museums that operate train displays. Their rugged design meets the demands of a continuously running daily display.

In addition, we are the only O-Gauge model train company to offer a limited lifetime warranty, providing added assurance that you will enjoy your trains for many years. After all, we remember what it was like to open that box on Christmas morning. Brimming with anticipation, you just couldn't wait to get that train on the track. With Williams by Bachmann, you'll be off in no time! Just take your locomotive or set out of the box, put it on the track, and turn the transformer handle. All of our items have a one page instruction sheet outlining the basic operation and care of you unit, with no programming steps or thick manuals to read, so you can just enjoy your trains! We thank you for taking the time to review our products and we are confident that you will be pleased with all of the choices you make.

*The Collector's Value is the price you would pay for the original product if you were to buy it today in "like-new" condition.

ALL ABOARD! THE "ILLINOIS CENTRAL"

The brown, orange, and gold colors, long a familiar site along "Ol' Man River," are a big part of Williams Golden Memory Series line-up. The big lines of the Mid-West prefer diesels because they give rocket-action power for high speeds over long, flat distances. And this Williams "2363" Illinois Central model gives you that same rocket-action power.

Item No. 40499 • Standard Pack 2 • $319.95

Four of the finest cars in the entire array of Williams rolling stock are featured in this magnificent passenger train. Richly-enameled Pullmans have twin bulb interior lighting and are patterned after newest type cars. The "Boat-tail" Observation has a roof antenna and a solarium just like streamliners on the crack transcontinental trains. The locomotive is a 20-wheel Pennsylvania steam turbine type, built especially for fast runs. Realistic water scoop is built into the underside of the tender. Train length is 5' 7".

Lubricants for Model Railroading Professionals

For the best care and maintenance of motive power, rolling stock, and track, Bachmann has a full line of premium-grade lubricants. Four E-Z Lube® products are offered:

- light gear oil
- heavy gear oil
- heavy duty grease
- conductive contact lubricant

Each of the lubricants has a specific purpose. The light gear oil is for use on all gears, bushings, shafts, and bolsters. It is non-shedding and will not “sling off.” The heavy gear oil lubricates for extended periods of time and is formulated for use on motor bushings, bearings, valve gear, side rods, and draft gear boxes. For applications requiring heavier viscosity material, such as Large Scale trains, it's best to use the heavy duty grease. And for superior electric motor maintenance and track cleaning, your choice is the conductive contact lubricant.

With proper maintenance, you can extend the life and enjoyment of your railroad equipment for many, many years. We urge you to establish a sensible maintenance schedule and to use our E-Z Lube® products for professional care.
